Erskine Childers, Chief Lieutenant of De Valera, Executed by Free Staters

Charge Against Insurgent Leader Is Having Pistol in Possession.

APPEALS ARE FRUITLESS

Was One of Chief Opponents of Free State Plan, Holding It Means Ireland's "Absorption in British Empire"; Active in Rebel Raids.

DUBLIN, Nov. 24.—Erskine Childers, chief lieutenant of Eamon de Valera, was executed here at 7 o'clock this morning for having an automatic pistol in his possession. It is announced in official bulletins by the National Army.

The brief army report states that Childers was tried by the military court at Port Bello Barracks, Dublin, November 17, charged with being in possession, without proper authority, of an automatic pistol which appeared November 10 at Annamoon House, County Wicklow. The accused, the court added, was found guilty and sentenced to death, and the finding and sentence being confirmed, the execution was carried out this morning.

Erskine Childers, a lieutenant commander in the Irish Republican Army and one of the right-hand men of Eamon de Valera, was placed on trial before a military tribunal in Dublin November 17 on the charge that he had a pistol in his possession when arrested by Free State forces November 10. The trial lasted two days. Childers, who was 52 years old, appeared through counsel for a writ of habeas corpus which was denied yesterday by the master of rolls. He then appealed to the court of appeals. Childers was an ardent proponent of the Irish republic and strongly opposed ratification of the treaty setting up the Irish Free State on the grounds that it meant "absorption of Ireland in the British Empire." He was defeated last June in the elections for South Ireland, receiving fewer votes than any other candidate. Early in the next month he was reported to be organizing insurgents in the Dublin hills and later in the summer commanded the irregulars who cut the cable in Valentia harbor.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Announcement of the execution in Dublin of Erskine Childers, leading lieutenant of Eamon de Valera, came as a surprise to England, where it was believed the Free State authorities would hesitate to impose this penalty. The execution removes the most important figure in the Republican movement in Ireland next to de Valera.

Tiger Strikes Back at Critics

BOSTON, Nov. 24.—The Tiger of France lashed back at his Senate critics today in his first American interview granted to the Associated Press, replying particularly to the criticism of Senators Hitchcock and Borah.

Answering Senator Hitchcock's demand that he explain why France insisted on using black troops in her army of occupation the Tiger declared that Mr. Hitchcock had been misled by German propaganda and that today there was not a single black soldier on German territory.

"Recognized as Supreme in Circulation and Advertising"

Newspaperdom, the well-known publication of New York which is devoted to the interests of newspaper advertisers, makes a periodical poll of advertisers in the towns where the leading newspapers of the country are published, as a means of compiling an "Efficient List" of mediums which bring the best results to advertisers.

Local surveys are made by representatives of Newspaperdom during which business men cast votes as to which of the home town newspapers has acquired the distinction of being first "in reader confidence and advertiser efficiency."

The result of the most recent survey made in Connellsville is declared by Newspaperdom to be that "The Courier is Recognized as Supreme in Circulation and Advertising."

Today's 24-page issue of The Courier, crowded with attractive and convincing advertising announcements by the merchants of Connellsville, a full month in advance of Christmas, is substantial proof of the accuracy of the fact established by Newspaperdom's survey that The Courier is, indeed, "Recognized as Supreme in Circulation and Advertising."

"My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship; so when I brought home a bottle of Dr. Williams' Wonderful Remedy, on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble didn't help her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the caloric mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere—advertisement."

Grim Reaper

MRS. E. W. HUTCHINSON.
Funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Eastwood Hutchinson, wife of Dr. Bennett W. Hutchinson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage, 512 South Pittsburgh street. Dr. H. N. Cameron of Uniontown, superintendent of the McKeesport district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, assisted by Dr. Appleton Bach of Pittsburgh and other ministers will officiate. The interment will be made at Mount Pleasant.

Mrs. Hutchinson died Thursday morning at 5 o'clock in the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia. Accompanied by Dr. Hutchinson, who was at his wife's bedside when death came, the body arrived here this morning at 5:30 o'clock and was removed to the chapel of funeral director Charles C. Mitchell and later to the family home. Mrs. Hutchinson had been declining in health for the past year and her illness had been of a serious nature for six months preceding her death. She was admitted to Pennsylvania Hospital several weeks ago.

Mrs. Hutchinson was born at Stockbridge, N. Y., a daughter of Rev. Loren and Anna Rountree Eastwood. Her father was a well-known Methodist Episcopal minister for 60 years, holding charges at Syracuse and the surrounding districts. She was graduated from the Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y. Last June she attended the 50th anniversary of the Alpha Phi Sorority, of which she was a member, held at Syracuse. She was an accomplished musician and previous to her marriage was an instructor in kindergarten, Abingdon, Ill. and McKeesport College, Lebanon, Ill. She was married July 14, 1886 at Baldwinsville, N. Y. to Rev. Dr. Hutchinson and after Dr. Hutchinson was made the first president of West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va., serving in that capacity for eight years, she taught music in the college for a brief period. Among the places Mrs. Hutchinson had resided since her marriage were: Lima, N. Y., where Dr. Hutchinson was president of Genesee Wesleyan Seminary for six years; Providence, R. I., Washington, Pa., Pittsburgh and Indiana, Pa., moving from the latter place to Connelldale, where Dr. Hutchinson is serving his third year as pastor.

Mrs. Hutchinson was a woman of a beautiful character and by her kindness and charming personality won the friendship and esteem of all with whom she came in contact. Since coming to Connelldale she had formed a wide acquaintance throughout the community and her death is keenly felt by all who knew her. She was a devoted member of her husband's church, and was prominently connected with the various women's organizations and assisted Dr. Hutchinson in his work until her recent illness. She organized the Queen Esther Circle, composed of young women of the church, and always kept in touch with all the young women's classes of the

Mrs. John Thornblay of Gibson avenue, a patient in a Pittsburgh hospital, was operated on recently. Irvin Tannehill, 23 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tannehill, is confined to his bed with sickness. A fire alarm was turned in here yesterday, but it proved to be false.

REVIVAL OF PROJECT TO COMPLETE M. & W. AROUSING INTEREST

Among the People of Greene County and Neighboring Section in W. Va.

THOMPSON IN CONTROL

Through Ownership of a Majority of the Capital Stock; Property Now in a Receivership Which It Is Believed Will Terminate Before Long.

The people of Greene county, Pa., and Monongalia county, W. Va., are "all set up" again over the revival of the project for the completion of the Morgantown & Wheeling railroad which was well under way when stopped by matters of greater concern, says F. A. Layman, railroad editor of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Transportation and coal interests of Pittsburgh being concerned in it, much interest naturally attaches to the project, entirely apart from the circumstance that if proceeded with, it will constitute the most ambitious railway construction undertaken hereabout for several years.

As originally projected the road was to have extended from Morgantown to Wheeling, an airline distance of 60 miles. By reason of unfavorable topography of the country, construction costs were excessive, and only 20 miles were built, extending from Randall, a point on the Monongalia railroad three miles from Morgantown, to Blacksville. Eventually the line was extended to Braye four miles farther, to the big plant of the People's Natural Gas Company. This was six years ago and in the interval the little road has experienced many vicissitudes of fortune.

It is noteworthy that all financing of the enterprise thus far was local. But results appear to have vindicated the promoters' appraisal of the property for the Inter-State Commerce Commission in 1920 giving it a valuation of $1,400,000 compared with $400,000 in 1916. In consequence of a conflict of interests the road was thrown into a receivership which continued, but will, it is anticipated, be terminated shortly when the differences between the shareholders and Receiver Purglove, representing certain Cleveland coal interests, shall have been composed.

Receiver Purglove has petitioned the court for an order authorizing him to sell the road and it is the purpose of the J. V. Thompson interests which have acquired approximately 81 per cent of the stock, to buy it when it shall be offered for sale, according to local information. Holders owned or controlled by them comprise 2,500 of the 3,458 shares outstanding.

Meantime, the Morgantown & Wheeling railroad is engaged in litigation with the Monongalia railroad over $205,000 claimed by the former to be due from the latter for division of freight charges. A recent decree of the Circuit Court of Monongalia county ordered the money paid. In addition to this amount are others claimed by the management to be due from other sources that amount nearly as much more.

The stages of the road in 1921 were 3,500 and estimates for the current year are for even a larger amount. Hence it would appear that the road shall emerge from its receivership in financial condition to warrant prosecution of the extension project. Alternative plans, one contemplating a straight cut across the country to Wheeling, and the other a route via Waynesburg and a connection at that point with the Washington & Waynesburg division of the Pennsylvania, but several miles longer than the other, are considered.

Pipe Lines Carry More Oil Than Trains

Although tank cars and tank steamships, or tankers as they are used in the transportation of crude petroleum, by far the greater part of the crude oil produced in this country is shipped to refining and marketing centers by means of pipe-lines. The rail and water transportation of oil is really supplementary to the pipe-line system.

As the main pipe-lines are operated in interstate commerce, they are regulated as common carriers and, as such, come under the control of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The commission, in a report just issued, has for the first time made public the extent of the system.

The report shows that in 1921 there were 55,260 miles of pipe-line operated in interstate commerce by 33 separate companies. The total investment in the system is given in the report as $352,138,894.

There have been extensive additions to the system during the present year and it is expected that the 1922 report will show more than 60,000 miles of interstate line, with a proportionately greater investment. In addition to the main trunk lines, which are usually of 3-inch steel pipe and carry the oil from the producing fields to terminals located on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and at the large distributing centers inland, there are thousands of miles of smaller, so-called gathering lines. It is through these lines, which are from two to six inches in diameter, that the oil is collected from the wells and gathered in great storage tanks for shipment to distant points. The oil is forced through the pipes by means of pumps. In the Eastern and Mid-western regions the pumping stations are about 35 miles apart. In California, however, because of the greater viscosity of the oil the pumping stations are only about 12 miles apart and it is necessary to heat the heavy oil in order to facilitate its movement.

That the loans to be repaid by the government on January 1 aggregate the enormous sum of $625,000,000 is proof that a vast number of persons took advantage of the opportunity to make profitable use of their surplus earnings five years ago, and that they are shortly to be rewarded for their thrift and foresight.

The payment of this large sum to the holders of the War Savings securities will be accompanied with some danger lest the beneficiaries of the disbursement do not derive the largest advantages therefrom. There is the fear that many persons will regard this realization of both principal and interest upon an investment made five years ago as "ready money," and spend it without an appreciation of its real value. It would be lamentable if the lesson they have learned in saving should be forgotten and this important amount of accumulated wealth be dissipated by haphazard expenditure or by the purchase of any of the worthless securities now being hawked about by unscrupulous stock promoters.

In order to encourage an infinitely better use of these savings, and to prevent loss to the holders thereof, the government has prepared a new series of securities which will be exchanged for those maturing January 1. If these are accepted in lieu of cash the present holders of the 1918 War Savings securities will be giving living proof that they have profited by their first lesson in investing their savings where they will be absolutely safe and be returned to them again within a short period in addition to a fair rate of interest on both the original capital they expended in buying Savings Stamps and the interest earned thereon during the past five years. Fake stock promoters will readily make more alluring promises but none have yet, and none ever will, keep faith as Uncle Sam does with his stockholders.

Beginning January 2, following the first legal holiday of the new year, the banks of Fayette county and throughout the country will have on hand a supply of the new Treasury Savings Certificates for the purpose of refunding the War Savings securities of 1918, if holders prefer this to receiving the maturing value in cash. With such a very definite opportunity to continue the practice of thrift, the wise and prudent holders of the old series of securities will not hesitate to accept the new in exchange, rather than yield to the temptation to take the cash and spend it foolishly.

Confusing Terms in Everyday English

Like, As, As If.
Like should not be used as in the sentence, "He acts like he is angry." It may be used when followed by a noun or pronoun without a verb.
As for example, "He acted like the rest" or "I felt like a criminal."
If the sentence read, "He acted like the rest did," this would be incorrect but should be, "He acted as the rest did," or "He felt as a criminal would feel."

THE MUSHROOM EXPERT.

Bill is a mushroom expert and Bill is a friend of mine.
He has studied the amanita and all its ancestral line.
He goes to the fields each autumn to harvest a dinner treat.
For he knows which are deadly fungi, and which are the ones to eat.
Bill can talk by the hour on mushrooms and he laughs at my timid fears.
He is still in the land of the living and has eaten the things for years.
He is wise in the lore of the meadow and the swamp and the dark ravine.
And I say of the mushroom expert he is the best that I've ever seen.
If ever I gathered mushrooms I'd carry them back to Bill.
And ask him to look them over and pick out the ones that kill.
I'd trust to his certain knowledge, and for he is a sharp on that stuff and can spot it right off to you.
Bill knows em and loves em and eats em and all through the days of fall.
He goes with his little basket in search of the snowy ball.
And never I doubt his knowledge, I grant it surpasses mine.
But during the mushroom season I don't go to Bill's to dine.

Car Shortages—

Past and Present

The net car shortage reported on October 15, 1934, says the Railway Age, "was 152,824; on October 23, 1934, and on November 1 it was 175,560, in spite of the fact that during the two immediately preceding weeks the railroads moved more cars of freight than ever before in the corresponding two weeks of any year in history. The largest net car shortage ever reported in any past year was 146,000."

Reviewing the history of car shortages in reply to a statement which has been made in some quarters that "we always have a car shortage with us at this time of year," the Railway Age says:

"There was a large car shortage in 1908 and 1907 at the end of a ten-year period during which the total freight handled by the railroads had increased 150 per cent. The railroads were then making and for some years continued to make great efforts to so increase their facilities as to remedy this condition. The result was that in eight years from 1908 to 1915, inclusive, there never was a large car shortage except in the fall of 1912, and in six of the eight years there was no car shortage at all.

"Meantime, however, because of restrictive regulation, the expansion of the railroads was rapidly declining, especially after the year 1910. In consequence, when the great increase of business came in 1916 there came a large car shortage which prevailed not only in the fall of each year, but which, except in the spring of 1919, was practically continuous throughout the five years 1916 to 1920 inclusive. Because of the decline of business there was no car shortage in 1921, but the revival of business in 1922 has brought much the largest car shortage ever reported.

IF KIDNEYS BOTHER CUT DOWN ON MEAT

Take Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

Too much meat may produce uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and your back aches, pains in the back, if the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to help to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water at all times.—Advertisement.

Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coat-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should realize that mercury may salivate and certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters, and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years.

Mrs. A. Aronson of Orange, Texas, suffered from constipation for six years and found no relief until she took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. C. Anderson of Bull, Kans., corrected her bowel trouble so that she now eats and sleeps normally. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian pepsin and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not cramp or gripe. Every drugist handles it, and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only about a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

County Athletic League Adopts Floor Schedules; Season Opens January

High Schools of Fayette Are Divided Into Two Classes.

TRACK MEET DISCUSSED

At a meeting of the Fayette County Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association held last night at the West Penn Tea Room, representatives from the leading schools were present and adopted playing schedules to become effective during the basketball season, beginning January 5. There are two schedules, one for schools in Class 2 and another for schools in Class 1.

The league now includes practically every school in the county with the exception of South Connelville, from which institution nothing has been heard. A vacant place on the schedule in Class 3 is being retained for either South Connelville or Dunbar township.

The two schools in Class 1, Connelville and Uniontown, will not participate, and the championship will be fought out between the winners in each of the leagues.

In the opening games of Class 2, South Brownsville will play North Union at the former place; Redstone Township will play Gorman Township at home, and South Union Township will play Dunbar Township at home. The meetings between the teams will comprise a home and home series. Other dates may be filled with teams outside the league. The season will end March 5.

The Class 3 schools have been divided into the north and south groups because of geographic locations and the winner in each group will meet to determine the class championship, that team to play the champion of Class 2.

E. B. Smith of Connelville and H. M. Black of Uniontown will be the official record keepers. Principals of schools will report all home games to these two men by letter.

Following the discussion of the basketball schedules, talk turned to the track meet planned for the spring. The men present were very much enthused over the prospects of a good track event but determined on no definite place for staging it. Uniontown seemed to be the logical center but it has already had several meets and the officials of other schools said they believed it should be moved elsewhere next year. B. B. Smith, W. E. Fitchell, and R. K. Smith were named as a committee to secure data on a convenient place for holding the meet and to report at the next meeting. Connelville will have entrance in the track events, it being the only phase of athletics conducted under the auspices of the league that the Cokers will take part in.

The organization of the league will mean a big boost in the standards of county scholastic athletics. Already Redstone township has expended $5,500 for a new hall to be used temporarily as a basketball arena. When the new high school there is erected a gymnasium will be provided and the hall turned into a garage for the school buses.

Those present last night included: E. B. Smith, P. B. Hill, J. A. Kretzer, B. B. Whitmoyer, J. W. Patton, A. J. Everhart, Norman Mitterling, D. R. Kovar, C. W. Brown, W. P. Bell, W. H. Alexander, Guy Ross and E. J. Grant, all of Uniontown; B. B. Smith, W. G. Davis and W. L. Lewis, of Connelville; W. E. Fitchell and J. E. Henderson, Dunbar township; George Fitchell, C. B. Murray and W. A. Christie, Redstone township; H. V. Jones, E. Keller, Perry township; J. E. Roberts, H. T. Pease, Point Marion; H. E. Rudolph, J. B. Sheets, German township; C. A. Miller, South Brownsville; James M. Driscoll, W. E. Lunsford and C. G. Brady, guests.

The game arranged for Sunday at South Connelville has been called off by George Keeler announced yesterday he would not permit it and as a result it was immediately cancelled.

The Uniontown Herald says: "Wouldn't it be a good thing for the Connelville and Uniontown High Schools to resume football relations next fall?" Answer by quite a few.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL MEET DUNBAR TWP. ON GRID TOMORROW

High School held a scrimmage last evening preparatory to the game with Dunbar Township tomorrow afternoon. Four linemen were unable to report for practice and as a result the Varsity went through the reserves for big gains. A new play was rehearsed with care.

Tomorrow will see another big crowd at Fayette Field. Several hundred students from the township school will be here and the Cokers will be out to match the visiting crowd. The game holds promise of being a good one.

Members of the Connelville Alumni Association, who have a vivid recollection of events which occurred just 10 years ago yesterday, is: "No, it wouldn't."

The younger element of the city is anxious to know whether there will be a Boys Basketball League at the Y. M. C. A. this season. The league, in effect for the past two seasons, was practically the only means for the youngsters to get on the floor.

The Midgets, a group of boys who formed a team in the "Y" League last year, have organized this season and will endeavor to play independent games. Present members are Louis Evans, Schell, Chulser and Delegeta.

Another team of youngsters on the floor this season is the West Side Tigers. "Ham" Gallagher, Casey Player, will be coach.

Uniontown's City Basketball League will get under way in the next few days.

MISSED OUT ON BIG SERIES

Illness Prevents Willie Keeler From Attending Games as Guest of Manager McGraw.

Willie Keeler missed his first world's series during the recent clash. The one-time baseball idol was preparing to attend one of the games as the guest of his old Orioles teammates, John J. McGraw, Hughey Jennings and Joe Kelly, but his physician, Doctor West, refused to permit it. Willie was doing fine, but the weather grew too cold. He suffered a relapse on his return home.

"Jennings has fallen in with," remarked Keeler, "Hughey deserves it. He always was a hustler."

THEORY ADVANCED BY MANY

What Might Be Called the Evolution of Evolution as Explained by John Burroughs.

It is interesting to note that the doctrine of evolution itself has undergone as complete an evolution as have any animal species with which it deals. We find the germ of it, so to speak, in the early Greek philosophers and not much more.

Crude, half-developed forms of it began to appear in the eighteenth century of our era and became more and more developed in the nineteenth, till they approximate completion in Darwin. In Geoffrey Saint-Hilaire, 1796, there are glimpses of the theory, but in Lamarck, near the beginning of the nineteenth century, the theory is so fully developed that it anticipates Darwin on many points; often full of crudities and absurdities, yet Lamarck hits the mark surprisingly often.

In 1812 Dr. W. C. Wells, an Englishman, read a paper before the Royal Society in London that contains a passage that might have come from the pages of Darwin. In the anonymous and famous volume called "Vestiges of Creation," published in 1844, the doctrine of the mutability of species is forcibly put. Then in Herbert Spencer in 1852 the evolution theory of development receives a fresh impetus; till it matures in the minds of Darwin and Wallace in the late 50s. The inherent impulse towards development is also in Aristotle. It creeps out again in Lamarck, but was repudiated by Darwin. From "The Lost Harvest," by John Burroughs.

John Dobbs, manager of the New Orleans Southern Association baseball team since 1914, has been signed as manager of the Memphis club next season.

The St. Louis American League club has obtained 25 players from minor league clubs, including 11 pitchers, six infielders, six outfielders and two catchers.

One discouraging feature about football is that an opponent's plays always work so much better in the game than when tried out by the freshman in practice.

PARIS MODES IN FORMAL APPAREL

Decorative Trimmings Influence Styles; Fashion Correspondent Says.

GOWNS MUST BE ENLIVENED

Crisp Flowers or Vivid Girdles Are Employed to Enhance the Attractiveness of Milady's Frocks for Evening Wear.

Paris promises a winter season of lavish decoration, observes a fashion writer in the New York Times. If one's frock be sober, it must be enlivened with crisp flowers or a vivid girdle. If your evening gown be stately, let it slip off either one or both shoulders, and hold it securely with straps or tiny flowers that glitter with silver or gold. If one's suit seems the least bit businesslike, it should be embroidered with steel beads or strips of fur in a vermicelli pattern. Above all things one must avoid the obvious, and have one's frock beruffled where ruffles might least be expected, or be ribboned and gaily buttoned in unusual design.

As an expression of the vivacity of his costumes, Worth has chosen the tassel, which may seem old-fashioned, but which really has gone through many stages of rejuvenation. They are used alone or in groups, of large dimensions or of small, of silk, of satin, of metal or beads, but in every case they are the natural complement of the gown they adorn. Especially lovely ones are made of blades of metal, which are used on street frocks, and one evening gown boasts three long tassels of tubed crystal.

Brandt hangs tassels by slim cords or finely wrought chains and tops them with exquisite embroidery or braid of a contrasting shade. And with the prevailing vogue for superlatives of trimming, ribbons have gayly come into their own. They offer width to slim skirts, lines and width to abbreviated hemlines. Embroidered with rose flowers, or variously braided, they wind their gala way between hobbled tresses or crown more stately coiffures. By attaching countless narrow satin ribbons to the shoulder and catching them together at the waist and guiding them gracefully to the wrist, where they are caught by a silver cloth wristband. Martial et Armand have created an otherwise simple evening frock for the jeune fille. When silk ribbon is padded and attached to either side of a silk skirt it lends the soft folds sufficient weight to attempt a graceful flare.

Originality in Sleeves. The designers are finding the sleeves a field for originality. Nothing that could be done to a sleeve has been left undone, and if one should feel that all that can be said of sleeves has long ago been said he must hearken to the words of Jean Patou, who decorates the tightly fitting sleeve in a suit coat

What They Cost

What does it cost to feed a child? Sometimes little, sometimes much. That depends on the food they get.

The premier food for a child is oats, you know. Mothers for ages have known that.

And the finest oats that grow—just the cream of fine oats—cost less than a cent a dish.

Food value is measured by calories.

In Mother's Oats, 1,000 calories cost 5 cents.

Those 1,000 calories, in the average meat dish, cost nine or ten times that.

Those are reasons for serving Mother's Oats.

They are called Mother's Oats because children love the flavor.

Insist on this quality—make the oat dish delightful—if you believe in oats.

MOTHER'S OATS

The luxury dish—large, luscious flakes. Made for mothers who want children to love oats.

crisp blossoms and narrow strips of fur. Occasionally one finds a gown which, in place of a sleeve, has merely a huge cuff placed on the bare forearm. And lace mittens have returned to complete the quaint character of the sleeveless street frock if it be made with a full skirt and tight bodice as in the days of poke bonnets and ankle-laced slippers.

Collars, in the hands of the Parisian couturiers, also succeed in achieving the unusual. Charlotte edges broad coat-collars with narrow or wide braid of a contrasting color, and embroiders soft chiffon collars and drooping cuffs with heavy beads that form intricate or wide patterns, varying with the type of frock represented. But it has remained for Madeleine et Madeleine to create a tailored coat that scorns the and voluminous hat and square. One is lengthened by a far flung long enough to cover the mitt completely. But when fur is not used on the street things, there is a choice to be made from many other fascinating touches.

Long cuts tongues of fabric in the same cloth as the frock, rushes them and gathers them together to form a belt and then loops some of them together to form a wide cuff. Polart relies upon a vivid grille of crepe to enliven a plain model of tailored serge. The grille is of jade green, which continues to be a favorite color with Polart, and ends in tassels after passing through the steel buckles which terminate the tiny jacket of the gown.

At the waistlines of many frocks Polart delights in arranging impressionistic flowers of vivid silk and padded to a cushionlike quality. With his accustomed love for the full-blown colors, Polart drapes ruby velvet to the long lines of an ankle-length evening frock, with little rings of green moire and red thread at the bottom of which form several rows of a most unusual trimming. Again and again one is impressed with the charm of ribbon trimmings, grosgrain and narrow velvet, plait of black crepe silk braid in vermicelli motifs, metal ribbon that fairly sparkles with new crispness. There are ribbons knotted and looped and gathered in cabochons, in drapes and flowers.

Black velvet again appears in a gown designed by Philippe and Gaston. This time it is trimmed with a series of motifs in embroidered beads of all brilliant tones and hues.

KNITTED FROCKS FOR GIRLS

Novelty in Weave and Unusual Color Blendings Feature Garments for Little Misses.

Knitted fabrics promise to be exceedingly good for little girl's autumn and winter frocks, and some of them show decided novelty in weave, and unusual color blendings. Naturally, for children's wear, some firmness of weave is necessary, and this need is met in a variety of new materials that have all the softness that could be desired, in combination with a certain sturdiness of texture.

Many frocks developed in such materials are very simply trimmed with wool embroidery and wool cord; for the materials as often as not show some novelty of weave, or a stripe, or even a silk embroidered dot in contrasting color; so a great deal of trimming is neither appropriate nor necessary.

Tight-Fitting Sleeves. In contradistinction to the wide, flowing sleeve effects that are current now, the dresses of newest conception from abroad adopt the simple, tight-fitting sleeves of the tailor-made type of garment. This handling was noted in cloth tailored dresses, and again in soft silk and velvet moires.

Hiding a rash won't heal it

Attempts to conceal complexion blemishes usually fail, and only serve to draw attention to the defects. Underneath most unattractive skins is a clear, pleasing complexion—all that is needed is the proper treatment. It is surprising how often a brief use of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap will clear away blotches, redness and roughness and give the skin its natural freshness and charm.

Happiness in the home —a banker's opinion

"Relieve a home of nagging money worry and you remove the greatest single bar to harmony." A Cleveland financier so strongly believes this that his bank has established a Home Economics Bureau—to help married couples plan wise ways to conserve their incomes.

Yes, men are at last waking up to the great importance of woman's work

Woman's constant demand for new home savings has led men to originate many delicious but economical foods; for example, Brednut, the approved spread for bread.

As a spread for bread, rolls or hot biscuits, Brednut has a perfectly delicious flavor. Unless your husband is an exception to the many we have talked with, he will not be able to detect the slightest "difference."

Pasteurized milk! Tropical nuts! A delicious new home economy!

Notice, too, how your children enjoy Brednut. You would like to read bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture which explain the energy value and digestibility of foods like Brednut. Such commendation is easy to understand when you know that Brednut is made from pasteurized milk and tropical nuts.

Pure white Brednut is sold by your grocer in pound pats. With each pound he will give you a wholesome vegetable material which quickly colors your Brednut to a rich golden yellow.

Piquant! This Brednut Sandwich

Mix together two-thirds of a cup of cold boiled ham, chopped, one-quarter of a cup of sweet pickles and one cup of seeded raisins. Put this mixture through a food chopper. Add 1 teaspoonful of lemon juice and mix with mayonnaise to spreading consistency. Put between slices of bread spread with fresh-flavored, wholesome Brednut.

A Study in Home Making

The perfect harmony that a Grand Piano lends to its environment may now be realized in your own home. There was a time when the possession of a Grand Piano was only possible in a spacious home. But since the advent of the Brambach Baby Grand, ownership of one of these coveted instruments is simply a matter of discrimination in choosing your piano. It fits in the place and costs about the same as an upright piano, yet its recognized musical superiority and its distinctive appearance are incontestable reasons why the piano in your home should be a Jenny has varied this theme by adding to the flare cuff bounce upon bounce of the same contrasting material. In an unusual gown of cigar-brown velvet, which is one of the most favored of colors in Paris, Jenny has terminated tight-fitting sleeves just below the shoulder and held them in place by narrow bands of the same material, which radiate from a collar fitted closely about the neck.

Lavinia flares her sleeves at the wristband and weights them with silk tassels. Sleeves are trimmed with wide ruckings and full flowers, and sometimes sleeves almost decline the name, for they begin at the wrist and come to reach farther than the elbow, into the bewitching "rings" of

The Christmas Toy Store

Dear Children:

I'm back! I'm back with my jolly old reindeer! And with the biggest pack of the most wonderful toys that ever I've seen or that ever you've seen or that ever any of us ever will see if we should live to be three hundred years old!

I'm busy right now unpacking them in Wright-Metzler Store's Toyland. You can see them first thing Saturday morning. Oh boy, it'll be great!

There'll be games—and dolls—and trains—and stoves—and dishes—and tool boxes—and monkeys—and elephants—and circuses—and—and—well just everything that you or Tommy or Maryann or Sister Sue could possibly want.

Saturday afternoon I'm going to give a present to every one of you who comes to see me between 2 and 4 o'clock. If you've been real good maybe I'll give you two presents. Yes, sir—think of that! Saturday afternoon! Don't you forget to come!

More Active Demand Causes Price Furnace Coke to Jump 50 Cents to Former Figure

Blowing in of Additional Furnaces Sends More Buyers Into the Market.

FIRST HALF INQUIRIES

Appearing But Buyers and Sellers are So Far Apart Contracts are Unlikely To Be Closed; Foundry Spread Narrows; Coal Market Declines.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 22.—The market price of furnace coke has taken a jump of about 50 cents in the week. The well known law of supply and demand caused the advance just as it has caused the previous decline. Production by the merchant ovens has been increasing continuously, though at a lower rate lately than formerly. For a time practically no additional furnaces were going in and the market sagged. In the past week five furnaces have either blown in or have blowing coke with the intention of blowing in. One of these furnaces, Claiborne, at Sharpsville, which went into blast Monday of this week did not buy coke, but it uses coke that would otherwise be in the market so it amounts to the same thing. Scottsdale Furnace of Corrihan, McKinney & Company, went into blast last week. Robeson, Emporium and a stack of the Eastern Steel Company are about to go into blast and one or two of them may be in by the end of this week.

The spot furnace coke market of $6.75 to $7.25, quoted a week ago, was a market for odd lots picked up in the open market, and did not refer to a regular supply such as would be furnished on a contract. The quality was of various grades, some of it being quite good. These prices were not followed in adjusting prices on contracts calling for a regular supply to a furnace, with periodic price adjustment. Such contracts have generally been adjusted at about $7.50 to $8.00.

Today the prompt market in general is quotable at $7.25 to $7.50, and even up to $7.75, this being for spot lots of good grade or regular shipments covering a few days. It is possible that an occasional odd lot could be picked up at $7.00, but in general coke operators do not consider $7.00 a part of the generally quotable market. Contrary to the end of the year, rather a short period now, are not closely quotable as various factors enter into the bargain. It is doubtful whether really good coke could be bought for delivery to January 1 at less than $8.00.

Some tentative inquiry for furnace coke for the first quarter or first half of the year has appeared, but the positions of buyers and sellers are so far apart that it seems unlikely any contract business to run beyond January 1 will go through at this time. The operators consider car supplies in very delicate adjustment, presenting a strong probability that a snowstorm would greatly curtail the supply, while snowstorms are the natural probability for the next three months. Operators look, therefore, for a stronger market in future weeks, while as to the second quarter they do not see that another coal strike for April 1 is being avoided. The position of furnace coke, on the other hand, is that there ought to be almost continually declining coke and coal prices henceforth, and accordingly they would be inclined to contract for any part of the new year at an advance over the present market.

Foundry coke, which has ruled for a long time past at a quite unusual spread above furnace coke, has narrowed the spread sharply and thus is quotable at a trifle lower than a week ago, even though furnace coke has meanwhile advanced. The high grade coke, formerly priced at $10.00, a prominent operator has looked the lead in reducing his price to $8.50, effective November 15, this now representing the recognized market for high grade coke. Ordinary foundry coke can be picked up easily at $7.75 and in small lots frequently at $7.75. The spot and prompt market is thus quotable as follows:

Furnace coke ..... $7.35 to $7.50
Foundry coke ..... $7.75 to $8.00

The Pittsburgh district coal market has had a decline this week, due to reduced buying, railroads being the principal factor. Yesterday offerings were rather widespread and little of the coal had to be carried over. Whether the decline represents merely a flurry or is a regular readjustment remains to be seen. The ending of the lake shipping season has long been expected to be a factor in bringing out lower prices. The market for spot and prompt coke is now quotable at $2.75 to $3.00 for steam, $3.50 to $3.75 for by-product and $3.75 to $4.00 for high grade gas coal, mine-run, the market being off 25 to 50 cents in the week.

The pig iron market continues practically stagnant, inquiry being very light. The market is sagging from week to week, one or two inquiries being frequently sufficient to produce enough competition to lower prices. Bessemer, quotable a week ago nominal at $32. Valley, has been quoted at $31.50 this week, even for small lots, and may go lower before the end of the week or actual sales. Basic refractories quotable at $28, Valley No. Valley iron is known to be offered at less, but sales have been made by lake front furnaces to points usually considered valley territory at less than $28 Valley equivalent. Foundry iron, quotable a week ago at $29, is off fully $1 as even single carloads have been going this week at $28. The market is now quotable as follows:

Bessemer ..... $31.50
Basic ..... $32.00
Malleable ..... $28.00
Foundry ..... $28.00

A BIG CONTRACT.

Furnace Operators Hold Their Place as Leaders in Production Increase

Merchants Surpass Only in Adding More Ovens to the Active List.

182,380 TONS NEW RECORD

For the Year and Higher Best Week, 1921: Merchants Making More Coke Than Whole Region Did Year Ago; Better Car Supply Is Now in Sight.

From The Weekly Courier.

The furnace coke producers continued to maintain their lead last week in all respects except the addition of ovens to the active list. The production gain of the week was only 5,500 tons, or less than half that during the preceding week, but about the same proportion of the gain belonged to the furnace ovens as in the earlier week hence the positions of the two interests were practically unchanged, but both were strengthened by the developments of the week.

The regional output reached the new high figure of 182,380 tons, which exceeded the best pre-strike record of the year by over 32,000 tons and the best single week of 1921 by over 7,000 tons. In fact, last week's tonnage was two and three-quarter times the average of the whole 52 weeks of last year.

A noteworthy fact of the present merchant situation is that with only about 43 per cent of their ovens in blast they are making almost as much coke as both themselves and their furnace brethren were making a year ago. This shows that despite the handicaps of the strike, shortage in car supply and delays in movement, a very fair rate of plant efficiency has already been attained, notwithstanding organizations were shot to pieces by the strike.

There was about a 10 per cent better car supply last week than in the previous week, with the exception of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad which seems to be having much greater difficulty than either the Pennsylvania or the Monongahela in providing for coke making patrons. In the two lines that serve the largest number of plants in the region the average supply edged up to 60 per cent last week with the best distribution on Monday and Tuesday, which is an almost invariable rule in seasons of car shortage.

The close of the Lake coal season is expected to make a larger quota of cars available in the coke region. While this may not relieve the coke situation to any considerable extent, it will help some. In times like the present small favors are thankfully received and larger ones in proportion. The coke operators who are also loading by-product coal will be of the number who will thus experience a feeling of gratitude for any improvement over 30 or 40 per cent of coal car distribution, which has been the range for several weeks, will be in the nature of a small favor and appreciated accordingly.

The estimated production of coke during the week ended Saturday, November 18, was 182,380 tons, credited to the two districts as follows: Connellsville, 118,610, an increase of 4,380 tons; Lower Connellsville, 63,770, an increase of 1,120 tons, or a total increase of 5,500 tons, as compared with a total increase of 15,600 tons during the week preceding.

By inference, the production was:

Furnace, 118,610, a gain of 4,380 tons; merchant, 63,770, a gain of 1,120 tons, as compared with gains of 6,250 and 2,310 tons respectively during the week ended November 11.

Of the 422 ovens re-fired, 127 were at furnace and 295 at merchant operations. Of the former 105 were at Frick and 22 at independent furnace plants. Of the latter 77 were at Rainey and 218 at other merchant operations. In detail the furnace additions were:

Bitum, one; Calumet, 14; Connellsville No. 1, 28; Calumet No. 2, nine; Standard, 20; Connellsville No. 1, 28; Connellsville No. 2, 15; Connellsville No. 3, 15; Connellsville No. 4, 15; Connellsville No. 5, 15; ## SULPHUR CLEARS UP ROUGH OR RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist.

Any breaking out of the skin, even flaky, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthol Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly follows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Revlon's Menthol Sulphur from any good drug store and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

IN LATE FABRICS

Brocade in Crepe and Satin is in the Modish List.

Shimmering Weaves Have Suppleness Adapted to Draperies That Distinguish Straight Silhouettes.

It is quite certain that some lovely costumes will be introduced during the season for the sumptuous fabrics now in vogue cannot fail to prove an inspiration to the designers at home and abroad, observes a fashion authority.

For the last two seasons there has been an insistent demand for soft, clinging draperies. There was an infinite variety of black crepes and later on, or, to be perfectly accurate, this summer, there was a transforming of a somber world into a flower garden.

This reaction from the dull black crepe to the more elaborate and colorful materials of the moment is now seen in the increasing enthusiasm for the shimmered silks which are so favored in Paris and which promise to be even more so during the present season. Colors for day-time may be subdued for the more formal winter modes, but the vogue for figured fabrics is steadily increasing.

Crepe, de chine will continue to hold the foremost position among winter fabrics, but the crepes with dull surfaces, which have hitherto been supreme, have now yielded first place to the intricate varieties. These shimmering weaves possess a suppleness perfectly adapted to the draperies that distinguish the straight silhouette of today.

Brocades in crepes and satins in brilliant colors are expected to figure prominently on the modish list.

Lace, especially the metal patterns, is sure to be much in evidence this winter. These metal laces are produced in new and interesting ways. For example, gold and silver threads may be combined, and then the woven threads dyed any color, so that the silk thread takes the tint and gives tone to the whole tissue. This gives a fragile effect with a mere hint of color. Interwoven with the metallic threads. Then there is a new trimming lace in either gold or silver—in which a fine braid is used to form great motifs of leaves which are joined together in the most exquisite patterns. Combined with the rather dull gold or silver leaves made of solid braiding is a solid bright gold flower, the metal thread being used in an effect which is called in French moussé and which is, indeed, only mossy in character.

Business Bertie

Daughter—But papa, don't you think Bertie is old enough to know his own mind?

Father—He ought to get acquainted with what little he has in no time at all.

Frequent Coughs

Many do not realize the significance of the all too frequent cold or cough. Care should be taken to build up the powers of resistance.

Scott's Emulsion

abundant in health-building vitamin factors, helps build up a reserve of strength and resistance. Be sure and ask your druggist for Scott's Emulsion!

Veranda Chat. "He got his wife out of a department store."

"She looks as if she came from the department counter."

TRIMMED WITH MONKEY FUR

Black mink makes an up-to-the-minute jacket. The monkey fur trimming adds a note of interest.

Hallstones Formed During Heat.

It is during summer-time that hallstones occur most frequently. It is the heat of summer that gives rise to them, for they can be formed only in thundery weather. When there is thunder about there are always very strong upward draughts of air. As raindrops begin to fall they are caught by these currents and carried to great heights, where they freeze solid. If they now fall to earth they arrive in the form of the small hallstones that are usually seen. Sometimes, however, after falling through the clouds and receiving a coating of moisture, they are carried up again by other currents. The moisture freezes upon them, increasing their size.

The process may go on for some time, in which case the hallstone receives coating after coating of ice until it becomes as large as a marble or even an egg.

"Shished" the Tiger Away.

It was a frequent occurrence for a tiger to carry off a Chinese coolie in the Malay peninsula, according to a traveler who spent some time in that country.

These persons, he said, could seldom be brought to believe in the reality of dangers from animals that they looked on as only cases of abnormal dimensions. I saw this valor of ignorance tragically illustrated one day when I took some police out to help me track a tiger responsible for the loss of many lives. From a too distant eminence we soon caught sight of a Chinaman slowly strolling along sucking a pipe of sugarcane. Out sprang a tiger, but missed his mark, the back of the man's head. Without any acceleration of pace, the coolie, merely withdrawing the cane from his mouth, waved at the tiger and "shished" him away.

The Worst Ever.

"Well," said the landlord of the Soakem hotel, as the guest was paying his bill, "What do you think of our place as a summer resort?"

"I'd hate to tell you," answered the stranger as he picked up his grip. "Even what I think of it as a last resort would not look well in print."

Veranda Chat.

"She looks as if she came from the department counter."

WHY THE STATE GOVERNMENTS OWE MORE THAN A BILLION DOLLARS

Each of Us Owes $10.18 as Our Average Share of State Indebtedness

IN these days when we have come to use the word "billion" as if it were "handful" and when legislators and taxpayers are worrying about the huge foreign debts, the size of our own debts at home are liable to be forgotten. The fact is that the states of the Union alone have a total bonded indebtedness of over a billion dollars. This does not include, of course, the bonded indebtedness of cities and counties or temporary indebtedness of the states. The Bank of America, New York, has just completed a national survey of state debts and finds that the forty-eight states have outstanding bonds to the total of $1,071,506,381.23.

Each one of us, therefore, through our state governments, owes on an average of $10.18. Just what these figures mean is indicated by the fact that the total of state debts is very nearly the same as the debt of the Federal government before the war.

In 1913 the public debt of the United States government amounted to $1,038,564,000 or about $10.00 per capita. Now, of course, it is many times higher—about $23,222,000,000, or about $232 per capita.

This billion dollar state debt is, however, not a new phenomenon. It is the result of the growth of the state government since 1913. The growth of the state government since 1913 is indicated by the fact that nearly a half of the outstanding debt has been incurred since this country entered the war and more than a third since the beginning of 1920. This does not, of course, mean that state indebtedness has doubled since 1917—only that half the bonds outstanding now were issued since 1917. Altogether since April 6, 1917, there has been issued a total of $618,997,414.20 of the securities now outstanding and since January 1, 1920, a total of $384,359,997.53.

The debts of many states are of very recent origin. All of the existing bonds of Arkansas, Illinois, improvements will be increasingly necessary—and the growing wealth of the states will provide the money to pay for them. Many of these bonds are for very long terms—many as much as fifty years and a few mature at even later dates.

Where the Money Has Gone

For what purposes has this billion dollars been spent—what have the taxpayers received for this money?

More than a third of this billion of the total state debt—$367,687,100 to be exact—has been used for the construction of highways and bridges. The Bank of America statisticians have found. The figures are certainly significant when it is remembered that highway development on a substantial scale is of recent beginnings. Vast and comprehensive networks of state highways have been laid out and surfaced in the last few years and many thousands of miles more will be necessary to provide for the ever-growing needs of automotive transportation. The great scenic highways of the West, the essential highways from the farms to the markets of the Middle West and the industrial highways of the East are all represented in this third of a billion. When it is considered how vital these highways have become to our life and commerce, the per capita debt of only about three and a half dollars for them cannot be felt burdensome.

Among the noteworthy highway systems financed by large bond issues now outstanding are those of California ($51,000,000), New York ($100,000,000), Oregon ($31,700,000) and Pennsylvania ($50,000,000). Five other states, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan and West Virginia, have bonds for more than ten million dollars issued for highway purposes.

Waterways and harbor improvements—the development of port and canal facilities—come second in the list of purposes of state indebtedness with a total of $213,891,400. This includes the $154,800,000—the largest individual item in any classification—with which New York State has been financing its great canal projects. Other developments in this group are: California, $13,053,000 for the improvement of the harbor at San Francisco; Louisiana, $13,600,000 for canals and $13,489,400 for the work of the State Port Commission, including $2,000,000 for the Port of New Orleans; Maine, $650,000 for the state pier loan; Massachusetts, $12,393,000 for Port of Boston and other harbor improvements; and Rhode Island, $976,000 for harbor work.

Other physical improvements, including the $83,775,102 spent by Massachusetts on the transit, water, sewer and park systems of the metropolitan district, represent 9.5 per cent of the total debt. With public buildings paid for by 1.9 per cent, it is significant that actual physical improvements represent fully 65.7 per cent of the indebtedness and probably more, as some are undoubtedly included in each of the other classifications.

The Cost of the War to the States

Federal taxes are not the only burdens which the World War has left for us and future generations to bear. The war was responsible for more than an eighth of the billion dollar state debt. Bond issues totaling $139,281,722.53, or 13 per cent of the total, were used to defray expenditures arising out of the war. Of course, the war cost the states much more than this—both through current expenses and through bonds already paid off.

State Business Methods Improving

These state debts will probably grow, says The Bank of America. Developments and improvements will be increasingly necessary and the growing wealth of the states will provide the money to pay for them. Many of these bonds are for very long terms—many as much as fifty years and a few mature at even later dates.

Time was when the soundness of the methods of state finance were continually questioned by indignant voters, reformers, economists and bankers. But there is no doubt that these financial habits are passing out. While the debts are growing rapidly, this survey by The Bank of America is reassuring that they are being incurred and administered more conservatively.

Soldiers' bonuses have so far been provided for from bonds which at present total altogether $136,022,000. This is 12.1 per cent of the grand total debt of the states. The remaining nine million dollars is the cost of other welfare work for veterans and of war memorials of various kinds. Michigan's $28,000,000 bond issue, Minnesota's $20,900,000 issue, as well as the cost of armory buildings for state militia use.

The farmers and their states have of recent years been increasingly in the news until the popular impression in the non-agricultural states is that vast and costly experiments in state paternalism have been undertaken. And yet it is found that, with the most liberal classification, only 4.2 per cent of the total debt can be counted as "agricultural aid." Most of this $45,156,139.39 is South Dakota's $37,950,000 bonds issued to provide funds for its rural credit system. This total also includes the capital stock of the Bank of North Dakota, $2,000,000, which is, of course, realty for agricultural purposes, and the expenditures for agricultural experiment stations and forest preserves.

Education has received the lowest proportion of funds provided for by long-term bond issues. There are outstanding for all the states a total of $16,504,282.44, or 1.5 per cent of the aggregate. This includes the provision made for universities and public school systems, including the cost of buildings and expenditures for maintenance. Welfare institutions, including special and general hos-chusetts, California and Pennsylvania—have outstanding gross debts of more than $50,000,000 each, and these four states together account for $580,174,454.79, or nearly as much as the debt of all the other forty-four states together. When the other seven states which have debts of more than $25,000,000 each are included, the eleven states are responsible for $793,315,460.34, or nearly three times as much as the other thirty-seven states together.

Debts Small Compared With Wealth

These figures should not, of course, be accepted without analysis as to their significance and their limitations. In many ways the ratio of the debt of a state to its wealth might be considered a better figure for comparison. This would be similar to the solvency of an individual. This ratio is found by dividing the net debt (or the total debt minus sinking funds) by the assessed valuation of all property in the state. Of course, the assessed valuations are, no large that these ratios are naturally very small. It is found in studying these ratios that the state with the highest per capita debt, South Dakota, is twenty-fourth on the list of ratios of net debt to

Better Business in State Administration

Time was when the soundness of the methods of state finance were continually questioned by indignant voters, reformers, economists and bankers. There were tendencies to consider the long-term bond issue as a sure solution to all fiscal problems. When old bonds became due, they were refunded into new securities to be repaid by generations which had no idea for what the money had been used. Miscellaneous floating debts were consolidated into long-term bonds and the day of reckoning put off for twenty-five or fifty years. Current expenses and even annual deficits were converted into bonds. Not only were fifty-year securities issued for the gravel roads which could last only a few years but the third generation of taxpayers were bequeathed bonds the funds of which were used to pay for lead pencils in political offices.

But there is no doubt that these financial habits of state governments are passing, points out The Bank of America. Only a small proportion of the total debt—11 per cent—can be classified as "funding operation" and this $2 naturally, the result of all the years' growth and activities of the various states—bonds issued over a considerable period of time are included—some of the debts are as old as the states themselves. But, as many alarmed taxpayers have pointed out with protests, these debts have been growing more and more rapidly of recent years. At almost every election somewhere a state is voting on some great program of construction to be paid for with a bond issue. Campaigns are carried on to swing voters for millions for all kinds of projects. More and more the state govern-

Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, South Dakota, Washington and West Virginia were issued since that historic day of April, 1917, when the United States entered the World War, and so also were Oregon's with the exception of bonds issued a few days earlier. Of these states the present debts of Illinois, Iowa, Ohio and Washington were incurred after January 1, 1920.

These state debts will probably grow—there is no basis for belief that the future will see any slackening in state undertakings and their financing by means of long-term securities. Developments and the $15,000,000 bonds of Missouri, the $12,000,000 of New Jersey, $20,000,000 of Ohio, $10,000,000 of Oregon and $12,500,000 of Washington—all these were issued entirely for paying adjusted compensation to the veterans of the World War. They are a striking record of how the states have contributed to the rehabilitation of those who served their country. In fact, all of the indebtedness of Ohio and Washington is in the soldiers' bonus bonds and all of New Hampshire's outstanding securities issued after our declaration of war have been for war purposes.

The war debts of the states go further back, of course. Included in the $18,440,810.07 of outstanding debts used for other military purposes are bonds issued during the Revolutionary and Civil Wars

The Largest State Debts

New York State's population, prosperity and great permanent improvements are reflected in its bonded debt, which aggregates $267,734,000. The cost of its canals, highway systems and state parks gives it the largest total debt of any state, although its per capita debt is comparatively low. Massachusetts is second with $138,049,134.53, of which a large proportion represents the value of its metropolitan district improvements and highways. Following these are California with a debt of $73,683,000, Pennsylvania with $50,658,330.26, South Dakota with $47,700,000 and Michigan with $45,330,000. Kansas, Kentucky, Nebraska and Wisconsin have no bonded indebtedness, Kentucky owing $5,312,438.77 on outstanding warrants and Wisconsin being indebted only to its trust funds to the extent of $2,275,991.77.

The highest per capita debt of any state in the Union is that of South Dakota, the share of each inhabitant being $75.02, seven and a half times the average for the nation. Oregon is second with $54.50 per capita, Massachusetts third with $35.83. New York fourth with $25.70, Louisiana fifth with $23.67 and Utah sixth with a per capita debt of $22.33.

It is found, in grouping the figures according to the geographical areas of the country, that New England has the highest per capita debt of any section. Its debt per inhabitant is $24.23, nearly two and a half times the average for the United States. At the opposite end of the country, the Pacific states, Washington, Oregon and California are second, having a per capita debt of $23.15. The Middle Atlantic group of states, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have a per capita debt of $15.07 and the Mountain states, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, and Nevada of $12.07.

Below the average for the country as a whole are all divisions in the Middle West, the East North Central division having a per capita debt of $3.69; the West North Central, $7.39; the South Atlantic, $3.20; the East South Central, $4.06; and the West South Central, $5.26.

assessed valuation. This certainly indicates that South Dakota, in incurring its comparatively large debt, has really been conservative, considering its substantial wealth. And since a large proportion of its bonds are for rural credit—in which the state simply lends its credit to its citizens rather than actually spends money on improvements, this high per capita debt is not terrifying.

This ratio ranges from 4.18 per cent for Oregon down to 0.005 per cent for Indiana, and zero in the cases of those states having no bonded indebtedness. In the case of only one state is this ratio higher than 3 per cent and in only three more higher than 2 per cent. The ratio in fully two-thirds of the states is less than 1 per cent, and in nearly half of the states, lower than a half of 1 per cent.

ure would indicate the decrease in the practice of refunding or the continuation of a debt after maturity. Bonds are no longer issued for indeterminate purposes but the voter knows exactly for what objects they are to be used. The term of securities is determined largely by the life of the improvement which they finance. Sharper distinctions are being made between maintenance expenses and construction costs. Sinking funds are more carefully and scientifically managed. Securities are growing in use and help to spread the burden of the taxpayers over an equitable number of years. While the debts are growing rapidly, this survey by The Bank of America is reassuring that they are being incurred and administered more conservatively.

SPURNS MODERN FACILITIES

Deeply Devout Inhabitants Wear Peasant Garb and Observe Strict Rules—Looks Like Volga Peasant Village Transplanted Bodily From Russia to the United States—Has One Telephone, but No Gas or Electricity—
No Class Distinctions.

Except for its one telephone wire and two automobiles, Little York, N.
Y., might be a Volga peasant village transplanted bodily from Russia to the United States, writes Eula McClary, in the New York World.

It has neither gas nor electricity, neither bathhouse nor sewers, no water supply except a spring.
In fact, Little York isn't even on the map or in the post office guide. None the less, it is a place to know about, if not to live in.

It is a village of plowmen and choicest clear houses, sheltering 50 peasant families with a total population of 500. Modern inventions are luxuries beyond the grasp of most of the inhabitants, and the desire of the rest.
Covering less than a square mile of fertile meadow and farm land, Little York lies at the foot of Mount Adam and Mount Eve, beautiful hills of the Lower Catskills.

The inhabitants, Russian-German Lutherans from the Volga river valley, are descendants of those who followed Catherine II from Prussia into Russia when the German princess became the wife of the future czar.

grandparents almost two centuries ago.
When the spring planting is finished the thrifty villagers hire out by the day to farmers of the surrounding country. After the harvest the men gather wood for the winter. In winter they cut down the trees in the frozen swamps and work for the ice companies, thus augmenting their small incomes.

Onions are their principal crops.
After the onions have been gathered, lettuce is planted. In addition to these market crops, each family produces enough vegetables and fruits for its own use. Some own cows and sell milk to the others. Two inhabitants who own land on the very edge of the village are dairy farmers.

The life is community life, with each family a distinct economic unit. The community sets the styles of dress, conduct, architecture and living. Little York is like a big family in which all the adult children are married.

There are no bachelors. A girl of eighteen looks forward to being married soon. A girl of twenty-five is an old maid. There are a few widows, but no widowers. Only rarely do villagers marry outside the community.
Indeed, intermarriage has been practiced to such an extent that 32 years after the founding of Little York everybody is related in some way to everybody else.

No Class Distinctions.
There are no social distinctions.
Each is the equal of the other. Financially, a good year means comfort for all; a bad year, suffering. A normal season means a return of $50,000 for the onion crop. A very good season will bring $75,000. A rainy, dark, onion-rotting season means general suffering.

The old people are the dictators of the village. Just as in Europe children are brought up to respect their parents and follow their least wish, Russian women in shawls and capes brought from the beloved fatherland, peasant men in heavy boots and hand-woven shirts say what the younger generations shall do. Here is one place the flapper could not flap.

The social life of the women is confined to work, rearing children, caring for the sick and visiting from one house to the other on Sundays or when the long work hours are over. The men meet at the one store and sit on benches and bags as they discuss purely village subjects. Sunday mornings all go to church.

The village does not countenance barn dances or huskings or sleigh rides. A few members own phonographs.

Churches Are Pretty.

You Can Quickly Limber Up Sore, Stiff, Swollen Joints

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of Joint-Ease.

It's here, right in town and every
Mrs. draggled has it.
It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is composed solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.
Just rub it on the (tormented) lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and not thereby, results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedily and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is a remedy directed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed. Advertisement.

Rev. John Mayer, twenty-eight, has the old or East End church, a quaint wooden structure, with rough stone foundation. Rev. Albert Mendis is minister at the new or West End church, an equally attractive wooden building, stainless white with a green steeple.

Each congregation supports its minister, who receives about $100 a month and the use of a home, with enough land for a garden. Ministers do not farm. "It's against principle," agreed the store clerk of males. "We're supposed to support him and we do."

Weddings are usually celebrated in the elaborate Russian way. The marriage ceremony is performed in the church at two o'clock in the afternoon, according to Lutheran ritual. A dinner is given at seven and the festivities last three days.

Death is accepted in true pioneer fashion. Each church owns a cemetery for the use of the congregation.
Adults are buried in one row, and children in another. Plain, white wooden crosses mark the graves. Hemlock and pine trees shelter the cemeteries which are on the hillside above the village. A few maples add a touch of color to the wild beauty of the places.

Every color in the rainbow was chosen for the houses by the color-loving peasants who left the Volga valley lands of their forefathers to settle in "the land of the free where all is good and there is money for all." The most pretentious house in the village belongs to the Onion King of Little York. It is an attractive, simple, onestoried, wooden structure with a porch halfway around it and high steps leading to the porch. The house itself is white, the roof of slate color, the shutters and window trimmings a vibrant green, the steps purple-gray and the ceiling of the porch a wonderful blue quite indescribable.

Introducing the Onion King.
The onion king, George Youngman,
is the only operator in the village.
He buys the crops from his fellow villagers and sells them to the whole-salers. Youngman is about sixty. His wife wears peasant costumes and carries her pail to the village well to get the drinking water. The water supply of the village, a natural spring, welled up on three sides with bricks, is on her land. There the women of the village come several times each day.

They must bend to dip the water from the shallow pool.
The overflow from the spring forms a narrow, shallow, cool stream in which the women place the milk pails and butter to keep cool. Little York is useless as well as without modern plumbing within the houses. No one ever takes the pail of milk or dish of

Speaks Highly of This Home Made Cough Remedy

Says It Acts With Unusual Speed—Loosens the Mucous—Relieves the Irritation and Stops the Cough.

Costs Next to Nothing—For a Big Supply.

Whenever anyone in the family catches cold and begins to cough and sneeze, and hawk and breathe heavy, it doesn't take many minutes to fix up a remedy that will drive away all such troubles in double quick time.

It's no secret—anyone can make a half pint of the finest cough medicine in the world for a trifling sum.

Get from any druggist one ounce of Fennel (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—there's all there is to it.
But now you've got a real medicine—mind you—the first spoonful you take acts already on the membrane of the throat and nose, the tickling cough almost instantly—the inflammation begins to disappear—up comes the stubborn mucus and often in 24 hours every trace of the cough that frightened you is gone.
It's really remarkable how this home made remedy acts on the mucous membrane and that is one reason it is so helpful to thousands of Catarrh sufferers.—Advertisement.

butter that belongs to another. Honesty is one of the strongest virtues of the community.

Kerosene is used for lighting. The one street which forms the thoroughfare of the village is in utter darkness after sunset. The people carry lanterns. There is not even one electric flash.

The schoolhouse stands midway between the two churches. The curriculum conforms to state requirements and runs through the grammar grades.
There are 300 children in the village, ranging from infancy to fifteen.
But they do not vary in color. It is a village of blonde youth, perfect blonde in skin, eyes and hair. Though some-ber colors are preferred by the older folk, the children wear the brightest hues. There is nothing drab about the general tone of Little York.

Birth Control Unknown.

Needless to say, birth control has gained no advocates. Women who look old enough to be grandmothers, but are said to be fifty-five, are mothers of children, nine and ten. Now has suffrage any converts in Little York? Not one woman in the community has voted. They do not believe in voting.
Their code says that woman's place is in the home with their children or in the fields with the men.

The Soviet has as few friends as suffering. Nearly every inhabitant is seeking to get some relative or dear friend out of Russia, "away from the soviet and starvation."

Motion pictures have found no opening in Little York. There is no theater, although there is no religious objection to decent motion pictures. But of course the idea of using the church for pictures would be considered deca-dation.

The organ is the most popular musical instrument. There are no ballads, the national Russian instrument.
A single telephone keeps the village from being cut off from outside communication. Little York is one mile from Pine Island and twelve miles from Goshen.

COWS TERRIFIED BY WOMEN

Bachelor's Herd on Lonely Island
Never Got Sight of Dresses.

On a small island in Puget sound,
Wash., there is a small herd of cows that becomes terrified at the sight of women. The cattle are owned by Carl E. Troy, a bachelor, who has always employed men for home work and farm duties.

Women are unwelcome visitors at the Troy dairy, because of Troy's shyness and because they frighten cows so that it is a week before the milk supply gets back to normal.
Money Worries.
Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Jones were discussing the affairs of a neighboring household and Mrs. Smith said:
"Mr. Robinson is greatly worried about the money market."
"And," added Mrs. Jones, "Mrs. Robinson is greatly worried about the market money."—Everybody's Magazine.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"IN THE NAME OF THE LAW" showing today and tomorrow at this theatre, features Emory Johnson, Ella Hall and other favorite screen stars. The O'Hara family is typically American middle class. Patrick O'Hara has served for 30 years on the San Francisco police force. For years he has saved to buy the little home in which he lives. His son, Harry, is working his way through law school. Johnny, a younger son, is a teller in a bank and Mary, an adopted daughter, is a stenographer in the same bank. Mrs. O'Hara is a busy, hustling housewife. At last the money is saved. They are to own their own home. The next word that Harry has stolen six hundred dollars. To save him a life's dream must be shattered. The old man is adamant—his son must suffer if he is guilty. That night, on duty, Patrolman O'Hara is summoned to a robbery. He sees a shadow in the dark. He shoots. And when he turns the prostrate figure over he sees—his son Johnny. Harry has been cleared of guilt. The money, supposedly stolen, has been found. Now a lawyer, his first trial is to defend his brother Johnny. And his first trial is a success. Mary tells the story of how the treasurer of the bank was the real guilty party. And Mary and Johnny prepare to start their married life and to own their own little cottage.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Mabel Normand will be seen in "Molly O'."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"WESTERN FIREBRANDS" presenting Big Boy Williams in one of the best roles of his screen career, provides splendid entertainment today and tomorrow at this theatre. Mildred Stanton, the charming daughter of Richard Stanton, the eastern capitalist, while catering over the hills, was seized by lumberjacks under the leadership of Pete Carson and spirited away to a lonely spot in the woods. Contrary to the custom of most lumberjacks, although they may be rough-necked, usually regard women with respect and treat them chivalrously, these fellows, evidently working under the orders of a master mind and with mixed motives, abandon their customary principles. Some were induced to take part in the affair believing it to be a harmless hoax, which would give Victor Lansing, a much desired opportunity to play the hero; and others were seduced by cupidity. How Alfred was attracted from her precarious position and the deadly fight in her behalf and other breath-taking scenes are vividly portrayed in "Western Firebrands."

THE ORPHEUM.

"IS MATRIMONY A FAILURE," the leading attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre, is a Paramount picture, presenting such favorite screen stars as T. Roy Burns, Ella Hall, Lois Wilson, and Walter Hiers. The picture is uproariously funny. The husbands of the town of Gateburg have all been caught young and tamed. Angels on parade, the couples are not always so harmonious when behind closed doors. Mr. and Mrs. Saxby celebrate their silver wedding for the socially elite of the village. Judge King has been selected by Mrs. Saxby to be the husband of her daughter Margaret. But the latter has fallen in love with Arthur Ravland, a bank clerk, and plans an elopement. This is carried out during the feast. The discovery of Margaret's not to her mother, telling her they are on the way to Bald Knob lodge for the honeymoon, causes confusion. King, a law student, puts the final dramatic touch to the affair when he states that the marriage license clerk being away on a trip, the license is illegal and that therefore the young couple are not really wedded. King takes charge of the situation and wires the lodge proprietor that an unmarried couple plan to stop at the hotel. The putrid proprietor accords the young couple a reception that is not what they had expected. Finally the young couple escape from the lodge and go back to Gateburg. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week Gloria Swanson will be seen in "Her Husband's Trade Mark."

STORIES OF GREAT INDIANS

By Elmo Scott Watson

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

CHIEF NAICHE CURES HIS WIFE'S JEALOUSY

"YOU are jealous of your sister. That is bad," said Naiche, chief of the Chiricahua Apaches, to the sister of his two wives one day. "I will cure you." So he threw a cartridge into the chamber of his rifle and shot her through the knees. Marital troubles of that sort seemed to run in Naiche's family. An army officer who visited old Cochise, his father, in 1873 in the Dragoon mountains, Arizona, noticed that the chief's hand was badly burned in two circular holes. He asked about them and Cochise explained that they had been made by his younger wife, who was jealous of the older. She had hit him so badly that he had to cater to the wound.

Because Cochise's son was constantly leading his playmates into trouble he was given the name Na-ai-cho, which means "mischievous," or "meddlesome," a prophetic name. When old Cochise died and the chieftainship passed on to Naiche he more than upheld the traditions of his family.

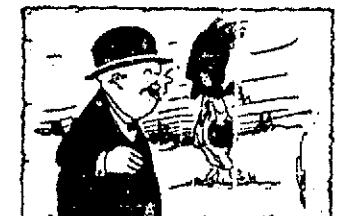

He first made his name known in 1881, when he led his Chiricahua warriors on devastating raids all over the Southwest. This band was known as "Geronimo's band," although, as a matter of fact, Naiche was the real chief and Geronimo merely a warrior leader of considerable renown. For five years they went their bloody way. Then, in 1886, Geronimo was finally cornered and forced to surrender to General Miles.

Naiche did not surrender until a day later. He felt that it was appropriate for him, son of the great Cochise and first chief of the Chiricahua, to be the last to lay down arms and cease fighting the white man whom he and his fathers had fought for two centuries. When the hostile Chiricahua were finally settled at Fort Sill as prisoners of war they looked to Naiche as their leader. "He was a most forceful and reliable man, a proud and self-respecting chieftain," was then Hugh Scott's tribute to him. Naiche became a member of the Indian police force and proved to be a faithful officer. Like Geronimo, he accepted Christianity and thereafter always signed his name "Christian Naiche." He was signing it when he cured his wife of jealousy.

Butter That Licks. The Grocer—Yes, you'll find this butter would be cheap at twice the money.

Mrs. Borden-Lodge—Yes; I know it would. I've used it before and my boarders eat hardly any of it.—London Answers.

IMPROVING FAST. "Good morning, Mr. Smith. Is your wife better?" "Oh yes. She's able to sit up and criticize everything I do now."

You Don't Seem to Like to marry you," said Mabel. "For you have such a pleasant weight. But you, I fear, get very little sleep. And so I'll have to tell you no."

Intense Interest in Clash Today With Township High School.

SPECIAL CAR SERVICE

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Nov. 24.—Last evening the members of high school gathered at the high school, with the student body turning out almost as a whole, and held an encouragement parade for the football team which today will meet Mount Pleasant Township High. They were led by two buglers, and with horns and every known device to make noise they went down Washington street to the East End, then up Main street to College avenue, to Church street to Main and then to York Park where they burned an effigy of the opposing team and where talks were given by Jacob Abrahamson and Charles Roberts. At the home of each teacher along the way and at the homes of the players whose homes were in the line of march the cheer leaders lined them up and yells were given. They also visited Prof. Utts of Mount Pleasant Township High and gave a yell for him. The game at the township grounds this afternoon is one of the biggest of the year. Two special West Penn cars were to be used to convey the student rooters to and from the game.

Why Women Get Dependent.
Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave and hopeful as men? Yes, certainly; but a woman's organism is essentially different from a man's—more delicate, more sensitive and more exacting. Women in delicate health are more dependent, more nervous, more irritable and more dependent. When a woman develops nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dragging-down palus and melancholia she should lose no time in giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial, as it will quickly dispel such troubles. This reliable herb medicine contains no drugs and has been the standby of American womanhood for nearly fifty years.—Advertisement.

CREDIT SNEEZE TO SCULPTOR

Prometheus Said to Have Introduced the Action to the World of Mortals.

The Greeks, who looked upon all ancient and inherited customs, and after them the Romans, had an elaborate code by which they distinguished whether a sneeze was to be regarded as a blessing or a malign portent, the distinction being made according to the time, place and circumstances.

Thus, if one sneezed between midday and midnight, the augury was happy, unless the moon shined at the time to be in the sign of the Virgin, the Balance, the Crab or the Scorpion, when it became an evil omen. Both Greeks and Romans regarded "sneezing to the right," that is, turning to the right side as the sneeze occurred, as a most happy omen.

Father Farnon Strada, who has made the most erudite researches into the history and literature of the sneeze, says that Prometheus introduced it to mortals. He had made a statue which he wished to endow with life, and for this purpose he stole a beam of sunlight. Wishing to conceal the theft from Apollo, he hid the beam in his snuff box. Shortly afterward, being desirous of taking a pinch of snuff, he absently put the beam up his nose—causing himself to sneeze violently.

GIANT TREES CENTURIES OLD

Sycamore Near Long Island City Believed to Be Good for Many More Years of Life.

"Old Sycamore," a giant tree at Wheatley, L. I., was born only 57 years after Columbus landed at San Salvador, in 1492. It was eighty years old when Hendrick Hudson first saw Long Island.

This is the opinion of experts who have examined the giant sycamore. Its age is estimated between 800 and 400 years, more likely the latter, it is said. The trunk near the ground is 24 feet in circumference and some of the limbs, half way up even, are larger than the trunks of many trees which claim to be patriarchs.

The height of "Old Sycamore" has not been ascertained, but it towers over the landscape in lordly fashion. Ninety years ago the place was used by the county butcher as his home. His beef when slaughtered was hung on chains from "Old Sycamore's" limbs.

The tree is said to be in splendid condition, and good for a century or so more.

Music.
Music is the most abstract, pure embodiment and type of universal law and movement. It is a key to the divine method throughout all the worlds of matter and spirit. It is the most fluid, free expression of form, in the becoming form developing according to intricate and divine necessity. There is nothing arbitrary in music; no acquiring any power in it except by patient, reverent study, and mastering of divine proportions and the eternal laws of fitness. Good music is the worth of art appears most eminent in music, since it requires no material, no subject matter, whose effort must be deducted; it is wholly form and power and it raises and ennobles whatever it expresses.—John Sullivan Dwight.

Furniture Big Factor in Life.
Did you ever weigh the fact that next to food, or possibly fashions, furniture is the chief thing in your life?

It was a necessary witness at your birth. From your high chair you graduated into the nursery. Then came the sofa, where you wooed your bride. Polished and new is the table across which you smiled at her you had won, at the first breakfast. Furniture in your home reflects your ambitions, your success. And then—life has not greater joy than the selection of the crib for the coming of the little stranger—your first born.

And last, the bed supports you as you drop into the peaceful sleep which has no waking.

Yes, furniture, truly, is the chief thing in your life.

Felt Sympathy.
"Now," thundered the school teacher on a morning of unusual density on the part of his scholars, "you are all blockheads, but there must be one among you who excels in something, even if only in gross ignorance. Let the biggest dunce in the school stand up."

The invitation was more in the nature of "bluff" than anything else; but, to the teacher's surprise, one stolid-visaged lad rose to his feet.

"Oh," purred the master, "I am glad to see that one of you has the honesty to admit his ignorance."

"Tisn't that, sir," said the youthful student; "but I admit the heart to see you 'standin' there by yourself!"

Really Not His Fault.

The late Doctor Creighton, bishop of London, once made a visit to Father Stanton's church in High Holborn, a most ritualistic organization. The service was quite to his liking, but Father Stanton talked so fast that he did not have a chance to say anything until he got into his carriage to go away. Then he remarked: "I like your service, Stanton, but I don't like your income."

A Way Out.
"Hub" (with newspaper)—"I see a judge has ruled that a woman should not spend more on clothes than for rent."

Wife—Well, then, we shall have to pay a bigger rent.

Couldn't Be Literature.
"You were not very complimentary in speaking of Scribner's new book."

"Didn't I say it would sell by the trainload?"

"That's just the point I'm making."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

—Bronchitis—

Bronchitis is a catarrhal inflammation of the delicate lining of the bronchial tubes, and generally affects both sides. This condition is commonly spoken of as a "cold on the chest."

Chronic bronchitis is a chronic inflammation of the bronchial lining and is generally known by difficult breathing and almost continual cough and expectoration. In the chronic stage the membrane becomes thickened, rough and in-elastic.

You can prevent the recurrence of the chronic stage by resorting to CHIROPRACTIC VERTEBRAL ADJUSTMENTS, thru which 100% of nerve energy is restored to the bronchial tubes and good health resulting.

Taking a Health Inventory

John Gould, while shaving one morning, suddenly realized that he was looking ill. His skin seemed to have assumed a gray, ashen color and his eyes had dark circles and yes—there was a red bump coming on his forehead. Indigestion!

"My heavens!" ejaculated John. "I'm not an old man. Why have I this color?" He glanced down at himself and a sudden horror flooded over him. "I'm getting flabby. Good grief! I'm getting a 'tummy'! And me only thirty-five!"

Certainly nothing worse could happen to a man, thought John. He immediately began to ponder on the situation and concluded that a stiff overhauling was necessary. "Exercise and more exercise, no luncheon to speak of, no fattening foods," declared John to himself. "I'll begin today."

So great was his haste to gain health that even his shave had to suffer. A slight cut on the chin testified to this and with it still stinging him, Mr. Gould dived into a trunk for some Irish clubs. He thereupon began a frenzy of setting-up exercises. He labored until the perspiration rolled down his face and his back ached like a tooth.

The morning's duties seemed wearisome indeed and when noon came, the suddenly-stale gentleman realized that he had determined to refrain from luncheon. He kept to his desk—though prings of hunger assailed him like a knife. He glanced at the offending part of his anatomy and could almost imagine it smaller. Fair compensation, thought the honest Mr. Gould. So he stuck at his desk and his tasks all afternoon. No fresh air, no walk, no shaking up of the system, and by five o'clock he took his tired self to the street.

"I can't walk today," he thought. "I'm a wreck." Thereupon he descended into the germ-laden subway.

Became Really Ill.

Well, the upshot of this sad tale of the strenuously conscientious Mr. Gould was that within a week of such suddenly changed habits his hero was really ill. He went to his doctor and received, as he deserved, a good lecture and some sound advice.

"Why didn't you come to me at first?" he was asked.

"Nothing the matter with me, Doc," he replied. "Why should I fork out my money to you when I wasn't sick?"

"That's where you people make half your mistakes," answered the doctor. "Come to me before you get sick and I'll show you how to keep from ever getting into such a wrecked condition. You have been needing treatment for weeks and now you are really a sick man."

Mr. Gould's theory about going to the doctor is that of countless others. The doctor to them is for no purpose save curing them, snatching them from death, rather than from sickness.

Nowadays, persons who understand the ways of health advocate periodic physical examinations by physicians. In this way, disease is prevented or at least taken in time for early and less difficult cure.

The need for such examinations was brought home forcefully at the time of the war when, according to an analysis of defects found in drafted men prepared by the office of the surgeon general of the U. S. Army, 82,000 men were found to have tuberculosis in an active or suspended form. At but 1,200 of this number were actually rejected from the service. Out of every 1,000 men examined 25 were found to have frank or suspected tuberculosis. This meant that from the "flower of the land," men between the ages of eighteen and thirty, two and one-half per cent had tuberculosis. Such a condition is scarcely believable.

Frequent Examination Necessary.

In the prevention of disease by frequent overhauling no disease can be better kept in check than tuberculosis. Infection usually takes place in childhood. The germs enter the system more easily at that period of life and sometimes remain dormant and inactive until a weakened condition of the system causes them to become active tuberculosis. When we find that there are 1,000,000 persons with the disease in an active form in this country alone, and as many more inactive cases, then is the real action forced upon us that every precaution must be taken to protect against its spread.

During the fifteen years that the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated agencies have been carrying on their life educational campaign the number of deaths from tuberculosis has been cut in half. Yet, in 1929, the last year for which statistics are available, 122,000 persons died in the United States from tuberculosis.

Living from day to day in a well-balanced way to keep the human machine in good trim, and having this machine periodically inspected by an expert physician are two methods of prevention urged by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated agencies.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Physician's Discovery Safely Reduces It to Normal and Dissipates Disappear.

If your blood pressure is too high you cannot pass a life insurance examination. You may not know whether you have this trouble or not, but if you have occasional dizzy spells, shortness of breath, pain in the head, or a flushed face, your blood pressure is probably higher than it ought to be. Even if you don't realize it.

Normal, the prescription of a Buffalo physician, reduces high blood pressure and, when this result is accomplished, all the ailments caused by the abnormal condition will quickly disappear. Connellsville Drug Co. and reliable druggists everywhere have a steady demand for Normal—it is a pure vegetable and contains nothing harmful.

Says She Was a Prisoner in Own Home

"A machine that will do what Tan-lin has done for me deserves only the highest praise," said Mrs. Frank Schwickel, 138 East Ninth St., Rock-est, N. Y.

"Why, I had rheumatism so bad I was unable to get on in my own home, but I could hardly move around at all, and getting out of the house was impossible. My arms, shoulders and hip pained me so bad I could scarcely get any sleep at night and I was just about helpless during the day."

"Nearly everybody talks about Tan-lin but a wonderful medicine for such a trouble, and a run-down condition, and I know now that it's equally as good for rheumatism, for five bottles I was rid of every ache and pain and I can get around and do my work as well as I ever could. Not only has Tan-lin rid me of rheumatism, but it has put my whole system in splendid condition."

Tan-lin is sold by all good druggists.—advertisment.

REAL EFFICIENCY IN DAIRY BARN

Labor Is Cut to Minimum in This Modern Building.

TO HOUSE GOOD SIZED HERD

Economical Production is the Important Factor in Making Success of Dairy Business—Chief Feature of This Plan.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF CHARGE on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1327 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

Dairying is a business that depends for its success as much on economical production as any other business. Every dollar that the dairyman saves in handling his herd or in marketing the milk, cream or butter is a dollar added to his profits. When it is possible to make a saving in costs and at the same time increase production, the owner of a herd profits doubly.

It is with these two ideas in mind that the costs and increasing production of the dairy farm building experts are designing dairy barns. For in the well-equipped modern dairy barn, the work of caring for the animals can be done quickly and cheaply, and at the same time the animals are housed where they are healthy and comfortable and produce a maximum amount of milk.

A well-constructed, well-designed and moderately equipped dairy barn is shown in the accompanying illustration. This is a frame structure, set on a concrete foundation that is so designed that the productivity of the cows will be kept at top notch even in those sections of the country where severe temperatures prevail during the winter months. For the structure is weatherproof, provision being made to keep a constant supply of fresh air in in the exterior view of the building. A bull pen and a calf pen adjoin the rows of stalls, while in the end is space for loose cattle, removable partitions being shown on the plan.

In either wall of the barn are fresh-air inlets. These inlets are so constructed that the fresh air is taken into the stable above the heads of the cows. In the ceiling are the foul-air outlets. These outlets are connected with flues that lead to the suction ventilators on the roof of the barn. The system of sucking the foul air out, draws the fresh air in without creating a draft, thus providing healthful air for the animals.

The concrete floor, sanitary stall partitions and concrete managers also prevent disease germs from becoming active. The litter is dropped into the gutters at the back of the stalls, and is taken out daily. Drains are provided so that the stable may be hosed out.

Such a barn as this provides a safe, economical place to house the dairy herd. The animals will be healthy and kept at maximum production. The work is done with less men and the jobs are less arduous and more pleasant.

Then Papa Spoke Up.

I had gone far enough in law school to be ready to give legal opinions to any one who would listen, when a girl on whom I was calling and who had just been telling me about a couple she knew who had been married by a justice of the peace, asked me if such a marriage is legal.

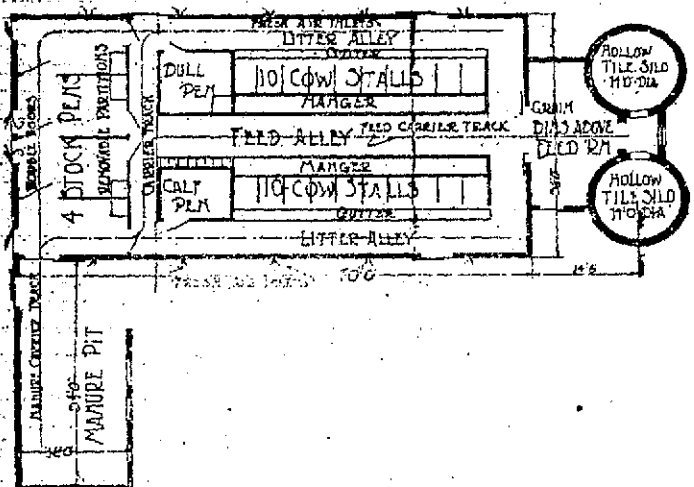

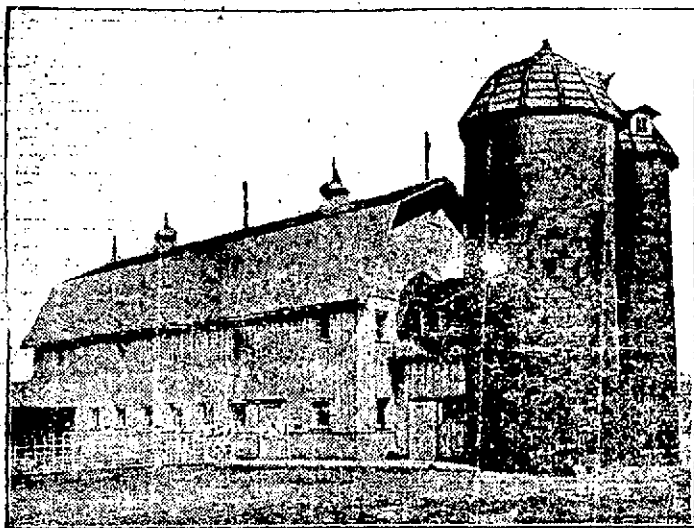

"Of course, the marriage is legal," I said, and proceeded to give some further information on what constitutes a legal marriage. "It would be legal, all right, in any state of the union. But I guess we both have our opinions of anybody who would be married by a justice of the peace instead of by a clergyman."

And just then her father spoke up and said: "You didn't know, Ethel, that your mother and I were married by a justice of the peace!"—Exchange.

Ohio "Ghost" a Furore in '60's.

A "spirit" at Austintown, Ashland county, Ohio, received a lot of publicity in the '60's.

A woman had become a medium on the death of her husband, and claimed to produce spirit rappings and other physical manifestations. For a time she studied anatomy in Marlborough and afterwards returned to her home the stable and for drawing out the air that breeds colds and other live stock diseases. The main building is 98 feet wide and 70 feet long. Set seven feet from the rear end are two 14-foot hollow clay tile silos, set seven feet apart. Built out to the center of each of these silos is a feed room, while the space between the silos is closed by double doors, permitting a wagon to be driven in and through the center of the barn. By this arrangement feed may be brought in and unloaded without extra handling.

The floor plans shown in connection with this article show how the interior of the stable floor is arranged. Double doors lead out of the feed room into the center alley, alongside of which and facing it are two rows of stanchions, each row providing stalls for ten cows. Over the feed alley and running to the feed room is an overhead carrier, which makes it a simple matter to load the feed or ensilage and carry it to each manger. On either side back of the stalls is a litter alley, a carrier truck being installed over each of these. This carrier runs to the rear of the barn and out into the covered manure pit that is shown
